VETERANS OF GREAT WAR

Veterans of the world war from all over the United States will come to Washington next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for the reunion of the famous 2d Division, which will take place at the great marine camp at Quantico. Among those high in official life who have been invited to be guests of the 2d Division are Secretary of War Weeks, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, Gen. John J. Pershing and Gen. John A. Lejeune, who commanded the 2d Division during the war. The reunion will be held at Quantico, where the 2d Division is now stationed, headed by Dr. Richard Derby, brother-in-law of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who served as division surgeon with the 2d Division. A large and enthusiastic delegation is also expected from Camp Travis, Tex., where the Army headquarters of the 2d Division are now stationed, headed by Brig. Gen. Hanson, Ely, who commanded the 3d Brigade of the 2d Division during the war. From Washington, Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commander of the Marine Corps, who commanded the 2d Division during the war, will head a delegation composed of Maj. Gen. Wendell C. Neville and other officers now stationed here who served with the 2d Division overseas.

Arrangements have been made in Quantico for the reception of the guests. Quantico was chosen as the place for the reunion this year because there are stationed the 5th and 8th Marine Regiments, which formed the Marine Brigade of the 2d Division, which won fame by stopping the German advance at Wood. Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, commanding general at Quantico, is in charge of all arrangements and has spared no pains to insure the success of the affair.

The reunion will open at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday with a formal dress parade by the 5th Regiment, after which the marines participating will be dismissed and their welcome to the old comrades to Quantico. At 7:30 o'clock dinner will be served in the new athletic stadium. After dinner there will be an entertainment in the stadium, including a band concert, vaudeville sketches and other features.

Wednesday from 9:30 until noon will be devoted to the annual business meeting, at which officers will be elected for the ensuing year and other business arrangements perfected. At 2:15 p.m. there will be a base ball game between the Quantico marines and a Washington team. At 4:30 p.m. memorial exercises will be held for men who gave their lives in the world war, and at 6:45 there will be a dress parade by the 6th Regiment. At 7:30 p.m. there will be a ball in the athletic stadium, in which it is expected more than a thousand couples will take part.

Thursday there will be a formal parade and review in honor of the 2d Division, in which all marines stationed at Quantico will take part.

The Kenneth H. Nash Post, No. 8, moved on Friday from 425 G street northwest to its new quarters, in the Gavel Club, at 719 13th street northwest. At the last meeting of the post five candidates were initiated and the adjutant was authorized to purchase the national colors. The post standard will be ordered in the near future. Lurtin R. Ginn, assistant controller, general of the United States, and a past grand master of Masons, will address the membership next Friday. Several candidates will be initiated. The meeting will be called to order at 8 p.m. During June, July and August monthly meetings will be held the second Friday designated as the night. Monthly meetings will be resumed after August 31. A motor ship drive is now on and all master Masons who are world war veterans are invited to affiliate with the post.

The first summer excursion to Marshall Hall will be held on Saturday, June 17. Tickets can be obtained from any member of the post or at the Gavel Club office.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, particularly through its Americanization committee, has been invited to participate in the exercises on Flag day by Mrs. Laura B. Prisk, who is known as the "Mother of Flag Day."

Whether the crown of best all-around athlete in the military forces of the United States shall rest on the head of a soldier, marine or sailor will be decided when the men from the three branches of the service meet in competition at the third annual track and field meet of the Philadelphia American Legion next Friday and Saturday.

Calling attention to the increasing influence of the Regular Army in the administration of the United States Veterans' Bureau, the weekly bulletin of the national legislative committee of the American Legion points out that John Thomas Taylor, vice chairman of the committee, called upon President Harding and requested that no additional Regular Army officers be detailed to duty with the Veterans' Bureau, which has exclusive care of the disabled veterans of the world war.

President Harding assured Taylor that no more Regular Army officers would be detailed to the bureau. The bulletin points out that four lieutenant colonels, one major and four retired regular officers of the Army are now on duty with the bureau. The next regular meeting of George Washington Post, No. 1, the American Legion, is to be held next Wednesday night at the new permanent home, 1829 I street, in connection with the new home will be discussed and an inspection made of the building. By midnight of July 1, the legion chief has requested, each post shall have increased its membership by at least 25 per cent.

July 1 has been designated by National Commander of the American Legion as "membership day." To carry on the legion's comprehensive program for the relief of service men during the summer, Commander MacNider has urged a united front and an all-out effort. By midnight of July 1, the legion chief has requested, each post shall have increased its membership by at least 25 per cent.

To encourage higher education and patriotic research among school children of the country, the American Legion is sponsoring a national essay contest which has for prize $15,000 in scholarships. The contest opened June 2, and closes at midnight August 1.

The service men's organization has asked the co-operation of state, city and county school superintendents, seeking contributions of essays from every eligible school child. American officers of legion posts will assist the educational authorities in this effort.

All girls and boys between the ages of twelve and eighteen years inclusive are eligible. The subject to be written on is "How the American Legion Can Best Serve the Nation." The rules provide that each contestant shall submit but one essay of not more than 500 words, and that essays shall be written in an affirmative and constructive way.

County superintendents of schools are asked to name three judges to select the best essay in each county. The essays of the counties are then to be judged by a state committee, selected by the state superintendent of schools or school commissioners, for the purpose of selecting the three state winners. Final selection of first, second and third national prize winners will be made from the three best essays of each state, and will be announced several weeks after September 30 by the national judges, whose names will be given out later. The three national prizes will be known as American Legion scholarships.

ship awards, consisting of a first prize of $750, second of $500 and a third of $250, derived from a fund donated personally by Commander Hanford MacNider.

Despite the fact that New Orleans, La., has been chosen as its 1922 convention city, the American Legion has received a $20,000 offer from Kansas City, Mo., which would be host to the ex-soldiers this year as it was in 1921. The offer followed questions by the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce, inquiring of Kansas City if the service men's gathering was a commercial asset.

Arrangements have been completed by special committee of the Sergeant Jasper Post, No. 13, the American Legion, for prominent speakers to address the members of the post at the meeting next Thursday evening. Senator Irvine L. Lentz of Wisconsin will be among the principal speakers. Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota has also signified his intention of being present.
